

Tra realtà e sogno

IL SENSO DI SCOPRIRE

Here is a list of simple rules that any tourist with a heart should follow:

1. Remember that a vacation is also a moment of comparison with a different culture. Try to adapt to local customs and habits without imposing your own habits and lifestyles. Being a guest does not mean being the host.
2. Be decent, from manners to clothing, especially if you will visit places of worship; support local micro-enterprises and discover local crafts or cuisine, you will bring home the real treasures of that country. Be honest and show gratitude.
3. The place you visit is not your city, but it is part of your same planet. Respect.
4. Open yourself to the universe you are discovering, interact with the locals, they are the best advisers. Discover their habits, rhythms and life from a new perspective, theirs. Empathize with the residents.
5. Garbage can be managed well, do not make the traces of your passage barbaric, the garbage is yours until you find a bin. Cleanliness of the ecosystem.
6. Children can have fun, but call them back when they exaggerate; smoking can be enjoyed, but only if it does not harm others and where permitted, dogs are wonderful, but someone may be afraid of them, remember that. Think about others.
7. Something may not please you, but it is not always someone's fault, let's laugh about it. Keep calm.
8. The road is not always wide, if you are many, try to line up in the narrowest passages or along the sidewalks. Giving way has never killed anyone.
9. Prefer local transportation and accommodation activities, they are genuine experiences. Authenticity.
10. Be honest in your reviews, if a fly disturbs your meal or a waiter appears in your selfie, it does not mean that the place is dirty or the people are rude. Many businesses depend on that damn thumb that, like a sword of Damocles, determines the choices of customers. Honesty.
11. Your music and voice are undoubtedly beautiful, but moderate the volume. You may like it, but others may not.
12. Your photos will be beautiful, but the landscape belongs to everyone, take the necessary time without abusing it. Altruism.
13. Every step contains history, do not steal pieces of the country for your living room window. Protect the discovered treasures.
14. If something did not please you, if something can and should be improved, let it be known, after all, all municipalities have an email in 2020. Help residents in just battles.
15. On the return, reflect on the luck you had in discovering so many new things. Authenticity.
